

Once you have downloaded any or all exe files in Parts 1-5, you will need to extract the pdf files. Using Windows Explorer, migrate to the path of the downloaded exe files and double click the file you wish to open. You are prompted to select a destination for the extracted files. The default path is C:\BLRManual; however, you may specify your own path. Please keep in mind that this path is where all pdf files relating to the BLRS Manual must now reside. Once the path has been established, click Unzip to begin the extraction process. Once the extraction process is complete, click Ok, and click Close. The manual may now be opened by double clicking any of the pdf files.
